Dear Mike,

I am pleased to write you concerning our meeting in Washington D.C.

After attending a CAT Eyes presentation and reviewing the program, I believe that CAT Eyes presents a balanced explanation of the indicators of terrorism and what can be done to heighten community awareness. During the presentation, the CAT Eyes Instructor explained what behaviors to look for, rather than focusing on a person's race or religion, which are not valid indicators of terrorism.

Since September 11, 2001, the Arab American Institute has worked diligently to convey the message that terrorism is not synonymous with Arabs or Muslims. I believe that the CAT Eyes program helps to facilitate that message, as demonstrated by the company's motto "Watching America with Pride, not Prejudice".

As Arab Americans, we are as concerned with the prosperity and security of our country as any other Americans. We applaud the efforts of CAT Eyes to take prejudice out of the war on terrorism. We believe that it is not only right to do so, but also more effective.

Sincerely,

Jean AbiNader
Managing Director
